Be Prepared! Storm Readiness Ahead of El Niño

90% CHANCE HEAVY RAIN

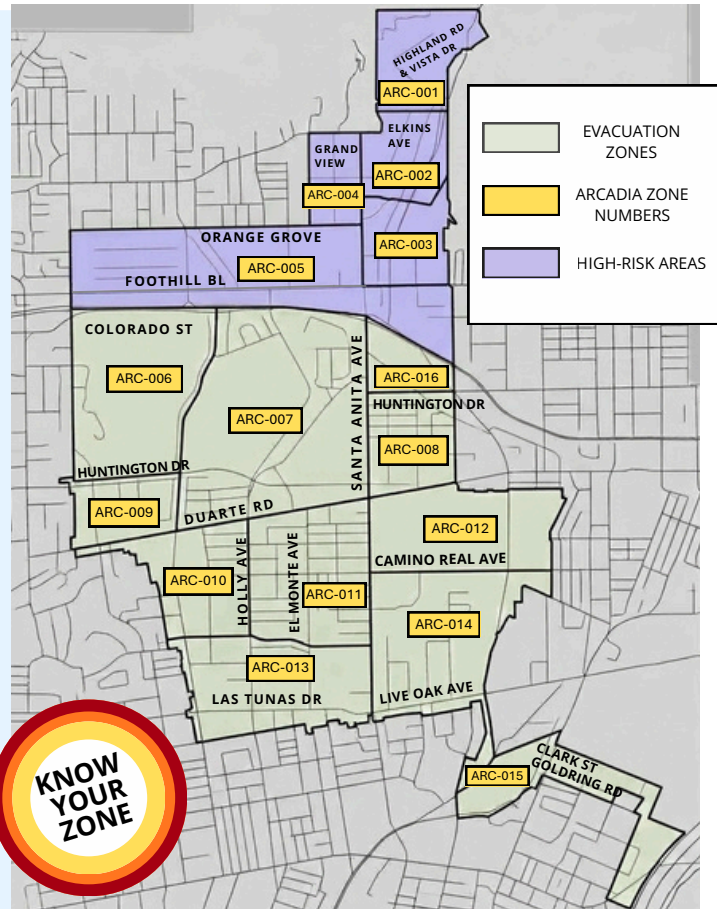

Above-Average rainfall expected from November to January 2027.

What the City is Doing to Prepare

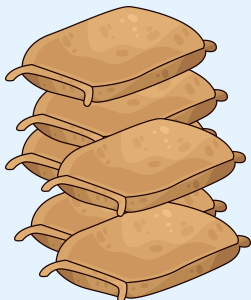

- Clearing storm drains, gutters, and catch basins.
- Ensuring debris basins, which are designed to trap runoff, remain fully functional.
- Replenishing sandbags for residents and installing concrete barriers along Canyon Road and Highland Vista Drive to catch and redirect potential mudflow and debris.
- Inspecting all generators and completing necessary repairs.

How to Stay Prepared

- Clear leaves, twigs, and other debris from your home's gutters.
- Secure outdoor furniture and any loose items in your yard.
- Check your landscaping and drainage systems are functioning properly, directing water away from your home.
- Build an emergency kit containing food, water, flashlights, batteries, medications, and pet supplies that can last for several days.
- Know which evacuation zone you live in. Arcadia Zones (ARC) 001-005 are prone to higher risks of flooding.
