ARCADIA CELEBRATES 121ST ANNIVERSARY

As we celebrate Arcadia's 121st anniversary, let's take a look back at our rich history and diverse legacy that made Arcadia into the place that we all cherish today.

Santa Anita Park, 1934

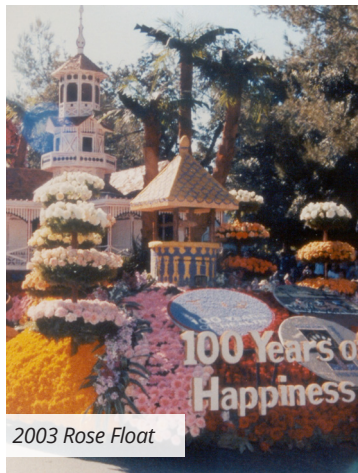

Arcadia Through the Years

Acquiring Rancho Santa Anita, Elias 'Lucky' Baldwin laid the foundation for Arcadia's growth, leading to its official incorporation on August 17, 1903.

Racing has a long history in Arcadia, beginning in 1907 to 1909 with Lucky Baldwin's racetrack, which was destroyed by a fire and is now Arcadia County Park. The Santa Anita Park, well known today, opened on Christmas Day in 1934 with over 30,000 people in attendance.

Queen Anne Cottage, 1895

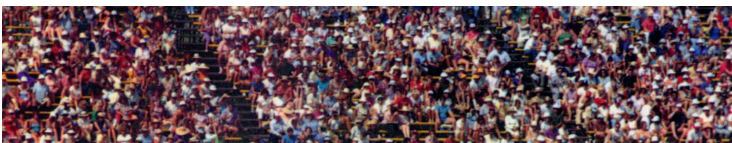

2003 Rose Float

From 1951 to 1953, the Queen Anne Cottage was meticulously restored, reclaiming its original beauty with stained glass windows, black walnut doors, and marble fireplace mantels. In 1954, it was dedicated as a State Historic Landmark and is located in The Arboretum.

In 1964, the Arcadia Tournament of Roses Association was formed, hosting fundraising events for the floats. The most recent float, "100 Years of Good Health, Happiness, and Prosperity," celebrated Arcadia's centennial and won the prestigious 2003 Queen's Trophy.

Arcadia buzzed with excitement as Santa Anita Park hosted the equestrian events of the Summer Olympics in 1984. The Olympic torch relay passed through Arcadia on July 22, and Arcadia Methodist Hospital (now USC Arcadia Hospital) served as the official hospital for the Olympics.

REDUCING ODORS IN ORGANIC WASTE RECYCLING BIN

With hotter days, your green organics cart might get unpleasant. Follow these tips to help "reduce the yuck" between pick-up days:

- Put food scraps into a paper bag inside the kitchen pail, then toss it all into the organics waste cart.
- Freeze kitchen waste and food scraps until collection day.
- Drain excess water from kitchen waste like tea bags and coffee grinds or leave them out to dry.
- Alternate kitchen waste and food scraps with layers of leaves, dirt/mulch, or a piece of cardboard when placing in the organics waste cart.
