

California Listens Digital Storytelling Workshop

March 1 and 2, 2019
9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Arcadia Public Library

Do you have a story about living in Arcadia, about the issues folks face in the community, about what it was like back in the day, about ways you have seen the community change? This is your opportunity to share your story and learn the basics of digital storytelling in order to turn your story into a 2 to 4 minute video.

This workshop is part of California Listens, a multi-year program at select public libraries throughout the state sponsored by the California State Library. The workshop will be led by Berkeley's StoryCenter, the inventors of the Digital Storytelling method now used by schools and community organizations around the world. In this workshop you will make your own short video on a computer. You will learn:

1. How to make a great video story;
2. How to write a narration script and record it;
3. How to prepare a visual treatment for your story;
4. The basics of video editing in WeVideo.

The stories will then be shared in a presentation in the fall at the Arcadia Public Library, and will become part of a state archive of stories about what it means to be Californian.

"CALIFORNIA LISTENS" DIGITAL STORYTELLING WORKSHOP

Learn the art of telling your story and recording it digitally in this informal, in-depth, hands-on workshop at the Arcadia Public Library. Create your own deeply personal, elegantly presented 2-4 minute video during this two-day workshop. Enrollment is limited.

Friday, March 1, 9 am to 5 pm
Saturday, March 2, 9 am to 5 pm

Sign up at <https://www.storycenter.org/arcadia>

Arcadia Public Library
20 W Duarte Road
Arcadia, CA 91006

For more information, contact Darlene Bradley 626.821.5570, or Joe Lambert, joe@storycenter.org. Details on reverse.

Sponsored by California State Library, in conjunction with Califa Group, StoryCenter, and the Arcadia Public Library.

